SENATOR JONES' SILVER BILL

The Author of the Measure Speaks for Three Hours and a Half in Its Support.
The House Discusses the Tariff Bill
Under the One Minute Rule—Other
Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The feature of yesterday's senate proceedings was a long speech by Mr. Jones, of Nevada, in support of his silver bill. Senator Jones spoke for three hours, and claimed the closest attention from senators on both sides of the chamber. He made a strong argument in favor of the free coinage of silver, increased volume of currency, the remonetization of silver and bi-metallicism.

Mr. Hoar, from the judiciary committee, reported back the house amendment to the senate anti-trust bill with amendment. Messrs. Vest and Coke stated that, as members of the committee, they did not concur in the reports, and Mr. Hoar explained the effect of the action recommended. The matter went over.

Senate bill appropriating $200,000 for a public building at Ogden, Utah, was reported and placed on the calendar.

Mr. Jones, of Nevada, then took the floor and spoke in support of the bill reported from the finance committee, authorizing the issue of treasury notes on deposits of silver. At the outset he spoke of the general unrest prevailing throughout the country. The prices of all commodities, he said, had fallen, and continued to fall. Such a phenomenon as constant and progressive fall in the general range of prices had always exercised a baneful influence on the prosperity of mankind that it never failed to excite attention. When a fall in prices was found operating on the products of all industries, when it was found not to be confined to any one class, country or race, but to be diffused over the entire world, found not to be a characteristic of any one year, but to go on for a series of years, it became manifest that it could not arise from local, temporary or subordinate causes, but that it must have its genesis and development in some principal of universal application.

What was it, he asked, that produced a general decline of prices in any country? It was a shrinkage in the volume of money relatively to the population and business. The world had never had a proper system of money. Prosperity and speculation had been stimulated at times by great yields from mines, and when those mines were worked out, then came revulsion and adversity. He went on to speak of the natural ratio between gold and silver existing for 2,500 or 3,000 years—a ratio of 15 to 1, and said that it was only since the legislative proscription of silver in Germany and the United States, and its banishment from the mines of Europe that any material change in that ratio took place, and that the present divergence in the relative value of the two metals was directly due to the legal outlawry of silver, and not to any natural causes.

It has always been the object of the creditor class to enhance the value of money by reducing its volume, so that, when the gold mines of California and Australia were producing the largest yield, it was proposed to demonetize gold. The motive of demonetization in the case of gold as well as silver, was to aggrandize the creditor class of the world, and to confiscate, so far as practicable the rewards of the hardy toilers. The demonetization of silver by Germany after her war with France, he said, inflicted greater evils on her people than her armies had inflicted on France, and when this evil began to have its effect, a veritable legion of the German population began to take place. The demonetization of silver by the United States in 1873 he regarded as one of those historical blunders that were worse than crimes. It was the child of ignorance and avarice, and it had proved the procreator of enforced idleness, poverty and misery. No better remedy could be applied than the absolute reversal of that legislation and putting back the monetary system of the country to what it was before 1873. If the monetary system would compare gold and silver with commodities in general they would see how the metals had maintained their relations, not to each other, but to all other things; they would find that instead of a fall having taken place in the value of silver, the change that had really taken place was a rise in the value of both gold and silver, the rise being relatively slight in silver and being ruinously great in gold.

Discussing the bill pending before the senate, Mr. Jones declared himself at all times and in all places a firm and unwavering advocate of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. In view, however, of the great diversity of views prevailing on the subject, and the possibility that by reason of such diversity the session of congress might terminate without affording the country any relief from the baleful and demoralizing effects of the demonetization of silver, he had joined with other members of the committee in reporting the bill.

Returning to his argument, Mr. Jones said that in order that prices might be kept from falling, the number of dollars out should not be reduced in number for the purchasing price of each dollar depended on the whole number out, the larger the number out the greater the value of each. To avoid too violent changes in the purchasing power of money, caused by the too great abundance or scarcity of it, society for 3,000 years had used the metals, gold and silver, so that their mutual oscillations of yield from the mines might serve to correct one another. Should one of those be discarded and deprived of legal tender, all the money-work of society would be thrown on the other whose value would therefore greatly increase.

Mr. Jones dwelt with emphasis on the fact that the creditors did not care which metal was demonetized, provided money was made scarce and dear. Germany and Austria demonetized gold in 1857, but failing to secure the co-operation of England, Germany in 1870, elated with her victory over France, and expecting to further cripple it, that country reversed her policy and joined England in denouncing silver and adopted the gold standard.

Mr. Jones warmly defended the silver miners from the charge of selfishness in desiring the remonetization of silver. The silver miners, he said, were as enduring, as eager, as vigorous, as adventurous as the argonauts of old. They had never asked any favors of the government and they ask none now. Their calling was an honorable one, and needed no defense.

At the suggestion of Mr. Teller, Mr. Jones postponed finishing his remarks until to-day. The senate then went into secret session and a few moments later adjourned.

Tariff Talk in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—After the reading of the journal the house went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill, agreeing to a motion offered by Mr. McKinley that the general debate be limited to one minute. Some very heated debates were indulged in mostly of a political nature until 5:45, when the house adjourned.

Not Storing Silver.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Mr. Leech, the director of the mint, in an interview with a representative of The United Press, about the published report that there was a corner in silver in this country, and that in consequence he was buying silver bullion abroad, said: "I see that I am quoted as saying that the government was buying bullion in London and storing it in the assay office at New York, and that it is also storing silver in the west and issuing certificates. The correspondent evidently misunderstood me. What I did say was that silver was being bought in London and shipped to this country and deposited at the assay office at New York for fine bars which were being stored by private parties. The government has bought no silver in London, nor has it stored any silver in the west. It is not storing any silver at all, and of course is not issuing certificates on silver bullion, as there is no law authorizing such issue. I did say that but little silver is being offered the government for sale, and that at a price considerably above the market price, and above the price at which certificates on bullion deposited in the Western National bank are being sold in New York. In regard to a corner in silver, I said that I did not know anything about it."

Ponca Indians in Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Several members of the Ponca tribe of Indians in the Indian Territory had a brief interview with Secretary Noble yesterday. They came here without asking permission of the department, to urge the secretary not to insist upon enforcing the recent order directing cattlemen to remove their herds from the territory on or before the 1st of October next. The Indians based their plea upon the loss of revenue which they would suffer when their lands were no longer leased for grazing purposes. The secretary, however, gave them no comfort. On the contrary he vigorously denounced the occupation of the lands to outsiders as without the sanction of law and unjust to the farmers of the country, who were obliged to compete with untaxed cattle grazed on untaxed lands. He ordered the Indians to return at once to their homes and told them that the policy of the government in regard to the occupation by cattlemen of Indian land would be rigidly carried out.

Because of Clarkson's Absence.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The meeting of the executive committee of the Republican National committee, which was to have been held here Monday, has been again postponed, this time indefinitely. The reason given for the postponement is the absence of First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson.

Thompson Will Go to Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—President Thomson expects to go to Cleveland, O., on the 15th inst., to attend the Garfield memorial ceremonies there on that date.

New York, May 13.—Trammen, from engineers to brakemen, on the New York Central railroad are in a state of affairs over the introduction of two mammoth engines—Nos. 563 and 565—which can haul fifteen sleepers each, or twice the regular number—and which are designed to run fifty miles an hour. If they are successful the road will be equipped with such engines. The trainmen say this will throw half the present force out of work.

Jumped the Track.

St. Louis, May 13.—A construction train on the new St. Louis, Kansas City and Colorado railway jumped the track near Clayton yesterday. Richard Jones, engineer, and Richard Shellcraft, conductor, were killed, and Arnold Garfield, fireman, fatally injured. The engine and five cars were badly wrecked. Thirty men had narrow escapes, but jumped and saved themselves.

Made a Hole in the Ground.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., May 13.—The works at the Standard and Venture powder and dynamite manufactories, situated near this city exploded yesterday. Where the works stood is a hole in which a good sized house could be placed out of sight. No one was hurt. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

Germany's Colonial Policy Defined by the Chancellor.

HE ASKS THE NATION'S SUPPORT.

The Aims of the Government is to Bring Matters in the Colonies to a Satisfactory State at Once—The Bulletin and the Bible to Act in the Cause of Civilization to Suppress the Slave Trade—Other Foreign Dispatches.

BERLIN, May 13.—In the debate on the estimates for the colonies, in the reichstag yesterday Chancellor Caprivi said he agreed with Prince Bismarck that the colonial policy can only be maintained with the full support of the nation. After references to the past coolness of the reichstag toward colonizing, he said it was only since he assumed the office of chancellor that he became acquainted with the enormous difficulties of the colonial policy.

It was the aim of the government to bring matters in the colonies to a satisfactory state, and then leave it to the commercial companies to carry on what the emperor had begun. He fully agreed with Herr Bamberger that the time might arrive when Europe would require every mark and every man at home, therefore, he would not send a single man or mark to East Africa beyond what was absolutely necessary.

"In regard to slavery," he said, "we must found stations, and the bible and the Bible must act in the cause of civilization. Without killing the slaveholders you will never abolish slavery. We hope to be in a position to conduct the colonies under so general a policy that Germany will not be injured, and her just feeling of National pride will not be wounded."

Powderly's Influence in England.

LONDON, May 13.—Extracts from Mr. Powderly's article against unrestricted emigration to the United States are being published in the principal British and continental journals, with a view of deterring expatriation of a class which it is desirable to keep at home. The purpose will very likely be in a great measure fulfilled, as the notices will have influence only upon intelligent artisans, while the ignorant and vicious will still be easily made victims to the wiles of the emigration agents.

M. E. CONFERENCE SOUTH. The Sunday School Committee Submits Their Report.

St. Louis, May 12.—In the M. E. Church South general conference after the usual religious exercises the Sunday school committee, through its chairman, T. J. Migruder, of Baltimore, submitted a report in which it is stated that "the past four years have been the most prosperous in our history. The increase in our Sunday school membership and in the circulation of our periodical literature is very encouraging and the relation of our Sunday schools to the church generally is becoming more satisfactory every year. We now have 12,539 Sunday schools with 8,530 teachers and 409,845 scholars; total, 782,084. This is an increase during the quadrennium of 1,967 schools with 16,866 teachers and 132,098 scholars; total, 148,964.

Edward H. East, of Tennessee; E. E. Jackson, ex-governor of West Virginia; Thomas Seay, governor of Alabama; Samuel Cupples and Rev. T. M. Finney, of St. Louis; Rev. W. S. Black and Rev. S. P. Another resolution against the liquor traffic was introduced and referred to the committee on temperance. A resolution to increase the salaries of bishops to $4,000 a year was sent to the committee on episcopacy. A way is to be provided for the legal raising of funds to pay the salaries of presiding elders. A resolution calling for the insertion in the discipline of the resolutions adopted last Thursday condemning dancing, theater-going, worldliness, etc., was laid on the table. The request of the Rio Grande mission for an assignment of a bishop to that field was referred to the committee on episcopacy. Adjourned.

MURDER MYSTERY CLEARED.

Dying Woman Confesses, Implicating Her Sons in the Murder of Their Father.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., May 13.—On the night of Jan. 29, 1879, Joseph W. Brown, a prominent farmer, living in Green township, this county, was murdered in his bed room. The crime coming so close upon the finding of the mutilated remains of John Ratchiff only a short distance from the tragedy, caused intense excitement.

The grand jury of Morgan county being in session at that time, an investigation resulted in fastening the crime upon Mrs. Lou Parrott, Buck Brown, a son and daughter of the murdered man, and Joseph Greer, a son-in-law. The supposed guilty parties were arrested and placed on trial. The jury trying the case failed to agree upon a verdict.

The defendants then demanded a separate trial, and the case was venue to Hendricks county. There Buck Brown was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to two years in the state's prison. Mrs. Parrott and Joseph Greer took their case to Owen county, and a trial resulted in their acquittal.

The feeling against the parties was so intense that they, with the widow of the murdered man, sold their possessions and moved away to distant parts of the country. The widow moved to Howard county near Kokomo, where she resided up to the time of her death, a few days ago.

Since the death of Mrs. Brown, a daughter who was present at her dying bed, has stated to several different persons that her mother had confessed to the murder of her husband, and implicated her boys, Jim and Buck. She also states that her mother told her that the weapon used was a monkey-wrench. After her husband had dropped off to sleep she crept from his side, gathered up her weapon and struck the husband in the temple, stunning him. He soon rallied, and leaping from the bed jerked the wrench from her grasp and struck her a glancing lick on the right side of the face.

At this juncture she states that the two boys rushed in and killed their father. Thus has been cleared up a deep mystery, and verifies the statements of many persons at the time of the murder that Mrs. Brown knew more of the crime than she had testified to.

Train Wrecked in a Tunnel.

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., May 13.—Yesterday morning No. 44 train, on entering Morrissey Rock tunnel, near here, struck ten tons of rock which had fallen from the top of the tunnel. The train had two engines. The first tender was thrown completely over its engine; the rear engine ran into the leading engine tearing out the right side of the latter. Fireman Angus Gorham was instantly killed, and Driver Jacob McNutt seriously, though not dangerously hurt. The men in the second engine were uninjured.

Death of a Millionaire.

DETROIT, Mich., May 13.—Frederick Buhl, one of the pioneers in the northwestern fur trade and a millionaire, died yesterday, aged over 60 years. Mr. Buhl had heavy fur and hardware interests, owned the steamer, Pan, mail, mail, and was worth several million dollars. His sons have been managing his business for several years. Mr. Buhl having practically retired from business.

Why He Went West.

CHICAGO, May 13.—Charles Randolph, ex-secretary of the board of trade, who has been missing for several weeks, is in Portland, Ore. A letter from him today announces his intention of remaining there. He knew his family would oppose such a move on his part, and for that reason said nothing to them about his departure.

Boat and Men Missing.

BIDDEFORD, Mass., May 13.—Charles Morrill, aged 30, and Frank A. Leighton, aged 18, started from Wells yesterday to sail here in a small boat. They should have arrived last night, but nothing has been seen of them, and they are thought to have been drowned.

A Feast for Cannibals.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Four white and forty-seven natives who were going as laborers to Australia were lost by the wreck of a schooner on the New Hebrides. THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY, MAY 13, 1890.

SEVENTY-EIGHT Indiana cities and towns elected Mayors and councils last week, and the Democrats carried fifty-four of them—large gains over two years ago. The Democrats are knocking out the g. o. p. in nearly every contest now-a-days.

COVINGTON saloons were closed Sunday for the first time in twenty years on the Sabbath. And a special says the day was one of the most quiet and orderly in a long time. This ought to encourage the law-loving people in their warfare against the Sabbath-breakers.

It is told that not long before the death of the late Samuel J. Randall, some of his old Philadelphia friends raised a fund of $30,000, which they offered him as a mark of respect. But he respectfully declined to accept it. He could not receive a money reward for doing his public duty. That's the kind of men needed in public office.

It is amusing to see how Republican papers are floundering about trying to explain the present depression in farming interests. Some lay the whole blame on the Chicago gamblers in grain, pork, &c., and others say the tariff hasn't been high enough to "protect" the agriculturist, and are in favor of increasing the duties.

Trust companies and banks are all excellent enterprises and we haven't anything to say against them. But we rise to remark that a new $50,000 manufacturing enterprise here in Maysville would do the city a thousand times more benefit than a half dozen banks and trust companies, and it would no doubt prove just as profitable to its stockholders.

THERE are few States in the Union that have finer educational facilities than Texas now enjoys. About $3,000,000, we learn, is annually expended on the public schools and half a million more on the higher institutions of learning. There is a school population of nearly half a million, about one-fourth of which are colored. Normal schools for both white and colored pupils are supported by the State, and over three thousand colored teachers are in service in the public schools.

ST. PAUL GLOBE says: "The Republicans have not been able to make much of a show of late in cases where the people did the voting, but they have been getting their work in on the Democrats in both branches of Congress. They have swelled their majorities in one to about twenty, and can see fourteen in the other a little ahead." Perhaps the outrageous and despotic action of the Republicans in Congress is one reason why they haven't made much of a show of late where the people have done the voting.

The Senatorial Fight.

The Democratic caucus at Frankfort last night adjourned without agreeing on any one to succeed the late Senator Beck, and the struggle for the place seems no nearer a solution than it was days ago.

The Legislature meets in joint session to-day to ballot for Senator, but it is not likely that any one of the several candidates will be able to muster enough strength to put an end to the fight.

The Giddy Things.

"There is no fool like an old fool." The latest illustration of this trite saying comes from Barnstable, Mass., where Mrs. Elizabeth B. Dolliver, aged sixty-eight years, has brought suit against William H. Atkinson, aged seventy-two years, for $30,000 damages for breach of promise. The giddy young things had been courting for some time, and the lady claims that she had gone so far as to prepare her wedding trousseau, which probably included a new set of false teeth and a curly wig, when her false lover flew the track, and refused to fulfill his promise. The fact that he is the wealthiest man in the vicinity doubtless added to the pangs of disappointment.—Covington Commonwealth.

Black Underwear for Men.

Up to a very few weeks ago the idea of men wearing solid black underwear would have been regarded as preposterous. Owing to the caprices of swiftness, however, there is no telling a month ahead just what may happen, and in the matter of dress men are just as fantastic and quite as ephemeral and vain as women possibly can be.

As a matter of fact, black underwear is now the rage among a lot of young club men who may be said to set the pace for all New York and the rest of the country in extreme fashions. The garments in question, which are, of course, of pure silk, include the undershirt, drawers, night-shirt, half-hose, suspenders, garters and sleeve straps.

There are also black silk negligé shirts for the sea shore. The reason given for resorting to black underclothes is that black brings out the lines of the human figure to better advantage than any other color.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach, and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Here and There.

County Attorney Newell has gone to Rockwood, Tenn., to take a look at the boom.

Miss Carrie Boston, of Tuckahoe, is visiting the family of 'Squire Wesley Vicroy.

Mrs. J. C. Pecor and her charming little daughters, Mamie and Sallie, are visiting Mrs. T. J. Rogers, of Mt. Sterling.

Messrs. W. R. Gill and Frank Hayden, of Washington, with the two children of the former, leave to-day for Missouri, to be absent several weeks visiting relatives.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Furnished by Glover & Burnett, proprietors—Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,145 hhds., with receipts for the same period of 1,891 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1 amount to 51,181 hhds. Sales on our market up to this date of the crop of 1889 amount to 31,191 hhds.

The market is very strong on all grades of burley tobacco in good condition which can be classed as good or better than medium leaf. This week has been rather the high of the year for such tobacco. The common grades of burley have been irregular with a tendency to still lower prices. We change our quotations slightly this week.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco, crop of 1889:

Trash (dark) or damaged tobacco..... 2 50¢ 3 00¢
Colony trash..... 5 00¢ 8 50¢
Common lugs, not colony..... 3 00¢ 5 00¢

Editor of the Bulletin: I understand it has been asked in my announcement as a candidate to represent Mason County in the Constitutional convention, I would be so subject to the action of the Democracy of the county. FARMERS' HOME MUTUAL AID.

The Association Makes a Splendid Showing—Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Home Mutual Aid Association of Mason County was held yesterday afternoon at the court house.

The old Board of Directors and the old officers were re-elected. The President is Mr. James B. Key and the Secretary is Mr. James E. Cahill.

The association now has 522 members, an increase of 33 in the past year. The amount of insurance now in force is $678,000,—$37,000 more than it was a year ago. The association is in better condition than ever before and is improving steadily.

Eleven years ago the association was organized by the farmers of this county. The object was to insure the residences, barns and other buildings of the members, from loss by fire, lightning and wind. The business is conducted on the assessment plan, each member having to pay according to the amount of insurance he carries, when a loss occurs.

During the eleven years since the association was organized, seventeen assessments have been made, amounting in all to $296 on the $100, an average of about 27 cents a year on the $100—about one-seventh of what it costs in the foreign or "old line" companies. The Secretary estimates that the association has saved its members $120,000 in eleven years.

Last year's business of the association shows that only two assessments were made—one for 20 cents on the $100 and the other for 10 cents on the $100. In 1889 two fire losses were paid, each for $600. Several small losses from wind were also paid during the year amounting to $289.50 and making the total losses paid by the association the past year, $1,489.50. The Secretary's salary has been paid, and there is now a balance on hand of $135. The charter has been amended so as to allow the association to insure churches, school houses and toll-houses in the country, and also in villages, where said buildings are isolated. Members now have the right, also, to insure any of their property in adjoining counties, providing it is not more than five miles distant from the county line.

River News.

Falling slowly at this point. The Chancellor at 9 p. m. and the St. Lawrence and Sherley at 1 a. m. are due up to-night. Due down to-night: Telegraph.

Captain Ira Huntington is quoted as saying: "The steamboat business is now in a more prosperous condition than I have ever known it to be in the past. The through packets have all the business that they can possibly attend to. When Captain Muhleman and Mart Noll sold the Andes they made the huge mistake of a life time. One trip of that boat recently cleared her owners over a thousand dollars. River men feel that at last the years of depression our business has passed through is at an end and that it will, in the future, be on a stable foundation."

Railway News.

The C. & O. will run an excursion to Huntington next Sunday.

The K. C. road has four elegant new passenger coaches. They were built at Dayton, Ohio.

The Cincinnati Southern Railroad Trustees will ask Editor C. A. Dana, of New York Sun, to act as one of the three arbitrators for them in the case between their road and the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific. Grover Cleveland and Clarence Seward will act for the latter road.

For the Farmer and Stockman

About 7,000,000 roses are sold annually in New York city, most of them raised on rose farms near the city.

For the past twelve years the May receipts of hogs at Chicago have averaged 486,000. The average weight of hogs received at that point last month was 222 pounds.

The sale of Robert Perrine, Jr., May 10, resulted as follows: Four two-year-old cattle, $135; three yearling steers, $65; four yearling steers, $75.25; three yearling heifers, $45.75; one yearling heifer, $25; one yearling heifer, $27.25; one bull calf, $21; one cow calf, $25.75; one cow, $25; one cow, $30; seven two-year-old mules and one yoke of oxen were sold at private figures. G. C. Goggin was auctioneer.

According to the monthly statement of the bureau of statistics, nearly 60,000,000 pounds of canned beef were exported from the United States during the eight months ending February 28, 1890, or 20,000,000 pounds more than in the corresponding period last year. The increase was chiefly in the shipments to England, to which country no less than 45,000,000 pounds were sent, against 27,000,000 pounds the previous year. Germany took 1,300,000 pounds more, and other European countries 3,750,000 pounds more. The shipments to all European countries amount to 55,503,549 pounds for the eight months, against 32,438,897 pounds during the corresponding period last year. The value of the exports to all points is $4,729,656 for 1889-90 and $3,243,132 for 1888-89.

Determined Miners.

Their Return to Work Must Be United.

BUT ONE FIRM HOLDING OUT.

A Strike That Involves All the Miners Along the Baltimore and Ohio, and the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Younggheny Railroads—Other Labor Disputes.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 13.—The miners at Irwin had another mass meeting there yesterday and are more determined than ever in their demands. The strike now involves all the miners on the Baltimore and Ohio and Pittsburg, McKeesport and Younggheny railroads. Their demands have been granted at all these places, but the miners will not go to work until Irwin receives the advance also.

Will Tie Up the Town.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., May 13.—Secretary Westing of the carpenters' union, has received $1,000 from General Secretary P. J. McGuire, of Philadelphia, with these words: "Money and aid will be sent if necessary." Several of the master builders have signed the agreement for eight hours and thirty-five cents, but the majority are still holding out for twenty-five cents and nine hours. The union men declare that they "will tie up the town" if a settlement is not reached early this week.

The Demands to Be Considered.

BOSTON, May 13.—The Building Laborers' union yesterday received an official communication from the Master Builders' association to the effect that the demands of the union for twenty-five cents an hour and eight hours will be considered at a meeting Thursday next.

Unorganized Labor Strike.

PITTSBURG, May 13.—Three thousand employees of the National Tube Works company, at McKeesport, went out on a strike yesterday for a 10 per cent. advance in wages. About 500 men, blacksmiths and machinists, remained at work. The strikers are unorganized.

End of a Strike.

CHICAGO, May 13.—The A. H. Andrews & Company desk factory and agricultural iron works resumed work yesterday, after a week's suspension. The strikers gained a 5 per cent. increase in wages and the Saturday half holiday during the summer months.

Cigarmakers Strike.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Twelve hundred cigarmakers are on a strike for increases in pay, ranging from fifty cents to $1.00 per thousand. No non-union men have been found to take their places and they expect to speedily win.

Go to Work for the Same.

CHICAGO, May 13.—It is reported that the striking employees of the Chicago malleable iron works will resume work on about the same basis of wages as before the strike.

Colliery Resumes Work.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., May 13.—The Mount Carmel shaft colliery, after an idleness of thirteen weeks, resumed operations yesterday, giving employment to 800 miners.

DOUBLE MURDER.

Two Chinamen Found Horribly Murdered Near Chico, California.

CHICO, Cal., May 13.—Evidence of a double murder was found yesterday in a Chinese wood-cutters' camp here, where the bodies of two dead Chinamen were found. Last Tuesday a wounded Chinaman was picked up on the road near Chico, and when his wound was dressed it was learned that he had received a pistol shot from his partner in a quarrel over a contract. He gave the impression that he had got the worst of the fight, and no inquiry was made.

Yesterday word was brought in that the dead Chinese were in a cabin on the Sacramento river. A sickening sight was presented when the coroner held the inquest yesterday. The body of Ah Chung lay in the cabin with his head crushed, while near by was Ah Loy also with his skull crushed and throat cut from ear to ear and one leg severed.

Result of a Misunderstanding.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 13.—A bad wreck occurred on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad from a collision between two freight trains at a tangle, a few miles from Chattanooga. It was caused by a misunderstanding of orders. The killed were: Alf Harris, colored, brakeman; John Bailey, of Rome, Ga., fireman; Scott Price, colored, brakeman; J. M. Clifford, fireman, of Knoxville, and brakeman name unknown; Engineer Gregory is probably injured fatally.

Coddie's Stand Criticism.

KANSAS CITY, May 13.—The women who were recently elected officers of Edgerton, Kan., have resigned, owing to the criticism which their official acts have been subjected by certain of the male citizens. A special election for mayor and other officers thus left vacant will be held May 19. It is believed that the women, whose administration has, on the whole, given satisfaction, will be re-elected.

Fears for Moonshine Hunters.

MIDDLEBORO, Ky., May 13.—There is grave fear that Capt. Hawkins, chief revenue officer, and his posse of twenty men, who are on an expedition to destroy illicit stills in the Cumberland mountains, have been massacred by outlaws, as they should have returned Friday, and have not been heard from. They had a desperate class of men to encounter.

Lost His Life for His Grandmother.

CAMPBELL'S FORD, Ont., May 13.—A small dwelling occupied by a family named Wynn burned early this morning. A 18-year-old boy named William Wynn and his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Soules, were burned to death. The woman was 80 years of age and helpless, and the brave boy lost his life in attempting to save her.

THIRTY PERISHED.

The Chenango County Poor House Disaster Greater Than Reported.

NEW YORK, May 13.—A special to The Herald from Norwich, N. Y., says that notwithstanding the mysterious reticence of the coroner and the keepers and superintendent of the burned Chenango county poor house at Preston, persons in a position to know, say that at least thirty patients perished in the flames. It is said that not one inmate out of twenty in the bedridden ward escaped.

Superintendent Babcock has stated to the board of supervisors, who are investigating the matter, that as all the records were destroyed it was impossible to get at the exact number of the missing before next Tuesday. There seems to have been gross carelessness about the security and management of the unfortunate people and it now looks as if investigations would justify the prediction now made as to the number of victims, and that, perhaps, a worse state of affairs will be revealed than is now dreamed of.

A Challenge from McAuliffe.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Richard K. Fox has sent the following telegram to The London Sporting Life: "Joe. McAuliffe will fight Frank P. Slavin in Pelican club to finish, for suitable purse and expenses. Should Slavin not accept, McAuliffe will fight any other man in England, sum terms. Billy Madden, manager. Ready at once to leave for England with McAuliffe. Reply what terms club will give."

PRICES CURRENT.

Review of the Stock, Money and Cattle Markets for May, 12.

Money loaned at 5/16 per cent. to-day. Currency notes, 116 bid; four coupons, 122 bid; four-and-a-halfs do., 103 1/2 bid. The stock market was extremely active at the opening this morning, and first prices as compared with those of Saturday's close were quite irregular, with the important changes in the direction of higher figures. Chicago Gas was up 1 per cent., Consolidated Gas 1/2, and New England 1/2.

The realizations with some pressure from bear sources gave the early dealings a drooping tendency, but the declines from opening prices were confined to slight fractions as a rule. The demand was too much for the manipulators, however, and the market soon began to rise.

At noon the market was still active and strong at about the best prices of the forenoon.
